

Amanda Mitcheltree is excited to begin her role with Pennsylvania Holstein as the Youth and Events Coordinator. Originally from Lawrence County, Amanda graduated from Virginia Tech with a degree in Dairy Science and has had a passion for dairy cattle for as long as she can remember. While at Virginia Tech, she was actively involved in the Dairy Club and was also a member of both the dairy judging and Dairy Challenge teams.

Dairying is strong in her pedigree as both sides of her family have been dairy farmers. Currently, she resides in Bedford, where she works in dairy nutrition. She enjoys working with dairy farmers and breeders every day, as they each present their own challenges and success stories. Amanda is looking forward to giving back to the organization that influenced her greatly during her Pennsylvania Junior Holstein days.
